PROFESSIONAL STUDIES PROGRAM (MSE-PS)

Master of Science in Education Professional Studies
The Master of Science in Education Professional Studies (MSE-PS) provides individuals with advanced academic work focused on the improvement of teaching and learning. The program is designed to develop skills and knowledge in the three core areas of research, practice, and voice in the profession through a sequence of courses and individually guided activities that culminate in a substantial capstone experience. Please note: Meeting all requirements for specific licenses or emphasis area options may necessitate exceeding thirty credits required for degree.

Alternative Education - This emphasis is for students who intend to teach in alternative education settings.

Art Education - This emphasis is designed for students who wish to work on professional goals related to art education.

Challenging Advanced Learners - This emphasis is for students who already have a teaching license and want to obtain the Gifted Teacher or Gifted Coordinator license, or those who want to focus their graduate work on the development of advanced and appropriately challenging content and skills for diverse student populations. This program is conducted jointly with UW-Stevens Point.

Curriculum and Instruction - This emphasis will allow students to identify a specific set of goals for their own professional development as a focus of study. For example, students may pursue an individualized plan related to specific educational levels (e.g., post-secondary or early childhood), teaching specific subjects (e.g., science or history), or selected Wisconsin Standards for Teacher Development and Licensure.

Educational Leadership – This emphasis is intended to provide students with some of the theory behind the practice of educational leadership. It is designed for students who have an interest in educational leadership, but do not seek an administrative license at the present time. Students who later decide to obtain the administrative license may apply to the UW-Whitewater/UW-Madison Cooperative Program in Educational Leadership http://www.uww.edu/gradstudies/programs/edleadership for licensure only. Eighteen of the units in the MSE-PD emphasis in Educational Leadership may be applied toward the co-op licensure-only program.

ESL/Bilingual Education – This emphasis is designed for students who already have a license in another area and want to obtain ESL/Bilingual licensure. Applicants for admission to this emphasis area must hold or be eligible for a regular teaching license in the State of Wisconsin for teaching in a public school. Exceptions to this policy may be made by the program coordinator on a case-by-case basis.¹ Applicants who are required to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) must obtain a score of at least 600 paper, 250 computer, or 100 Internet-based for admission to this emphasis.

Health, Human Performance and Recreation - This emphasis is designed to enhance knowledge, abilities and qualifications of professionals in the areas of Health, Human Performance and Recreation. The emphasis is offered with either a thesis option or a practicum option. Program-specific professional core courses and sections are required for this emphasis area. Consult with an advisor prior to enrolling in any course.

Health, Physical Education and Coaching - This emphasis is designed to enhance teachers’ knowledge and skill related to health, physical education, and/or coaching.

Higher Education Athletic Administration – This emphasis is for students who want to become future leaders in athletic administration within a higher education setting and seek a master’s degree. Applicants for admission to this emphasis should see http://www.uww.edu/coeps/departments/msepd/athletic-administration-emphasis/apply for additional requirements.

Higher Education Leadership - This emphasis is for students that want to become future leaders in higher education and seek a master’s degree. Applicants for admission to this emphasis should see http://www.uww.edu/coeps/departments/msepd/higher-ed-lead/apply for additional requirements.

Information, Technology and Libraries – This emphasis enhances the professional development of those interested in becoming information and technology leaders in the schools. It is designed to prepare professionals who are well rounded in digital and information technology. It will allow them to complete most of the requirements for the school library media specialist license, (Wisconsin 1902). Applicants for admission to this emphasis area must hold or be eligible for a regular teaching license in the State of Wisconsin for teaching in a public school. Exceptions to this policy may be made by the program coordinator on a case-by-case basis.¹

Reading – This emphasis is designed to prepare licensed teachers to provide special services in reading at the elementary and secondary level and to license students as reading teachers (Wisconsin 1316) and/or as reading specialists (Wisconsin 5017). Applicants for admission to this emphasis area must hold or be eligible for a regular teaching license in the State of Wisconsin for teaching in a public school. Exceptions to this policy may be made by the program coordinator on a case-by-case basis.¹ The curriculum is designed to develop an advanced understanding of philosophies, models and theories relevant to literacy development and its teaching in grades PreK-12. Students will develop skills in selecting and administering a variety of authentic instruments, interpreting the results, and planning implementation strategies for improving reading progress of students in elementary and secondary education settings.

Curriculum
The program consists of a common core of twelve units and an emphasis of eighteen units. Students begin with two courses taken either at the same time or one after the other (EDFOUND 723/CIGENRL 723/HELEAD 723 and EDFOUND 780) to gain a broad grounding in graduate study and educational research. They then start taking eighteen units of emphasis course work following a program plan developed in consultation with an emphasis advisor.

After completing EDFOUND 723/CIGENRL 723/HELEAD 723, EDFOUND 780, and at least 9 units of emphasis coursework, students select one of the following capstone options. The capstone options available depend on the student’s MSE-PD emphasis and professional development goals. They include the following four choices:
Capstone Project sequence (six units, at least three consecutive semesters): EDUINDP 724 and EDUINDP 726 (taken simultaneously), EDUINDP 727 (independent study with advisor), and EDUINDP 789;

Practicum: three or more units of EDADMIN 793, CIFLD 793, HELEAD 793, HEALTHED 793, PEPROF 793, COACHING 793, or RECREATN 799 - may increase minimum total credits needed for the degree;

Portfolio: (zero to three units, depending on emphasis; may have three-unit corequisite depending on emphasis): HELEAD 781 or PEPROF 781 - may increase minimum total credits needed for the degree;

Some emphasis areas are individualized based on the student's own professional development goals. These individualized emphases all consist of eighteen units planned with the advisor at the start of the program. The course work in other emphases, however (ESL/ Bilingual, Information Technology and Libraries, Alternative Education, and Reading), is based on specific licensure requirements set by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction and may include up to twenty-four units. Students in these emphases may also need to complete requirements beyond their course work such as portfolios and examinations in order to obtain the licenses they seek. Students in the licensure emphases should consult with an advisor to determine these requirements no later than the time of admission. Like all students in the program, they complete a program plan in consultation with the emphasis advisor at the start of the program.

1 Some emphasis areas require eligibility for a regular teaching license in Wisconsin. Exceptions, in some programs, may be made by the program coordinator for applicants with an adequate knowledge base in education who either have a minimum of two years of teaching experience in a school or are employed outside of school in a position with duties determined by the coordinator to be instructional in nature. Individuals admitted as exceptions under the latter criterion may be limited to specifically designated emphases. Please check with specific emphasis area requirements and your advisor prior to enrolling in any coursework.
