Welcome to the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater 2018-2019 Undergraduate and Graduate Catalog. Prior versions of this catalog were two-year publications and are available online at <http://www.uww.edu/registrar/course-catalogs>. This catalog contains information about academic and student life programs and policies. It also includes links to external websites; these are provided as a convenience to the reader and the content contained therein is not part of the catalog.

The University reserves the right to change without notice tuition, fees, programs, policies, requirements, or regulations published in this catalog. Students are advised to consult with their individual college or department for the most up-to-date information about program requirements, and should consult the University's Student Handbook for the most current statements of non-academic University policy.

UW-Whitewater at Rock County

Effective July 1, 2018 the 13 two-year campuses formerly known as the University of Wisconsin Colleges were integrated as branch campuses with seven of the University of Wisconsin System's four-year universities comprehensive or research institutions. As part of this restructuring effort, the campuses known as UW-Rock County has become became a new branch campus of UW-Whitewater with a new College of Integrated Studies. Accreditation, administrative oversight, and reporting structures also formally transferred on July 1.

During the transition period of the 2018-19 academic year, the UW-Whitewater at Rock County campus will continue to follow the curriculum and academic policies published in the UW-Colleges 2017-18 Catalog (<http://www.uwc.edu/catalog>). Beginning with the 2019-2020 academic year, the UW-Whitewater at Rock County campus will follow the academic and curriculum policies published in UW-Whitewater Course Catalog (<http://uww-public.courseleaf.com>).
