Adult Resource Center

262-472-5786

adultadvise@uww.edu

https://www.uww.edu/aso/support

The Adult Resource Center (ARC) is located in the Warhawk Involvement Center and serves all UW-Whitewater students. The Center is open weekdays and serves UW-Whitewater students in a variety of ways. It provides a warm, caring environment staffed by students willing to answer questions or to get information about other services around campus and in the community. The ARC offers a number of programs throughout the year. Program themes range from stress management to career planning. Most of all, the Adult Resource Center is a place for students to drop their bags, put up their feet, take a break from their hectic day and get to know some fellow students.

Campus Technology

http://www.uww.edu/icit

The office of Instructional, Communication & Information Technology (ICIT) is responsible for building, maintaining, and supporting the many technologies used by students, staff, and faculty on the UW-Whitewater campus. Along with managing the campus's computers and software, ICIT is also responsible for building UW-Whitewater's technology-related infrastructure, providing training to help the campus community better understand the many available technologies, and developing the campus website.

Technology Support Center Helpdesk

262-472-HELP (4357)

helpdesk@uww.edu (http://uww-public.courseleaf.com/Mailto:helpdesk@uww.edu)

ICIT provides a Helpdesk to assist students, faculty, and staff with their technology needs. Along with providing desktop support services and technology training programs, the Helpdesk also offers assistance with computer acquisition and setup, gaining network access, redeployment and disposal, gaining access to the campus network, and installation of university-supported software.

The Helpdesk also provides employment opportunities to students of all majors. Student employees who work on the Help Desk team have the opportunity to develop their technology and customer service skills while gaining real-world work experience.

Campus Computer Labs

ICIT manages the general access (GA) computer labs which can be found throughout the campus. The GA computer labs, which are open to students more than 90 hours each week during the school year, provide print services and access to a wide variety of software. In addition, there are several Collaboratories which are specialized computer labs that provide students with the space and resources to complete video editing projects, a sound booth for audio work, and equipment for high quality color printing. Students also have access to audio/visual equipment that can be checked out for use on class assignments.

Distance Learning, D2L, and Canvas

ICIT supports UW-Whitewater's distance education classrooms and the campus-wide, web-based course management systems called Desire2Learn (D2L) and Canvas. More than 80% of classes currently use D2L in some component of their course.

Email, Internet and File Storage Services

All UW-Whitewater students receive a campus email account and a Google Docs account. The campus email system can be accessed from any device and from any location, as long as an internet connection is available. Students also receive a Google Drive account to help meet the growing demand for digital storage space.

Internet access is also available in all GA computer labs. Wireless internet can be accessed by students from anywhere on campus, including all academic buildings, residence halls, and common gathering areas. Students, staff, and faculty are welcome to connect personal computers, mobile devices, and tablets to the campus Wi-Fi network.

Career and Leadership Development

262-472-1471

http://www.uww.edu/cld

Most students take advantage of the services of Career and Leadership Development as they develop their career plans, prepare their job search strategy, and seek intentional ways to get involved on campus. Staff assist students throughout their career development process, work with students seeking to develop their leadership skills, and help students develop the skills, behaviors and attitudes needed to succeed in the world of work. Career and Leadership Development offers numerous educational and social programs and events designed to connect students with each other and the campus at large.

Staff are available in person, online, and via telephone to provide advice to students.

Center for Communicative Disorders
262-472-1301 comdis@uw.edu

http://www.uww.edu/coeps/departments/comdis/clinic-services

The Center for Communicative Disorders offers assessment, intervention, prevention, and consultation services for members of the campus community, their families, and members of the general public who have questions/concerns about their speech, language, hearing, voice, fluency, social skills, learning, reading, writing, and/or assistive communication devices. We also serve individuals who have communication challenges as the result of brain injury, stroke, autism spectrum disorders, hearing loss, and cognitive or learning disabilities.

Center for Global Experience
262-472-5759
studyabroad@uww.edu (%20studyabroad@uww.edu)

www.uww.edu/international

The Office of Global Experiences is responsible for the management and administration of international student services, education abroad programs, and the Travel Study Program. The Office, in cooperation with Departments and Colleges, develops international academic exchange relationships and manages a variety of reciprocal student exchange programs around the world. The Office also provides orientation for new international students and assists these students with personal, academic, and immigration advisement, housing placement, and socio-cultural concerns after arriving at UW-Whitewater. The Office also serves as the official host for international visitors to UW-Whitewater and coordinates cultural and social programs that bring together global and domestic populations via events and programs like the International Dinner, the Host Family Program, and International Education Week.

Education Abroad
262-472-5759
studyabroad@uw.edu

www.uww.edu/international

The Office of Global Experiences provides advisement and assistance to students who are interested in pursuing an education abroad experience including (study abroad and exchange programs, short-term travel study programs and internship and student teaching placements abroad).

UW-Whitewater provides many study abroad options that are designed to meet students’ diverse academic and personal needs. Programs vary in location, length, level, academic focus, language requirements, and cost. Each program consists of academic study with an appropriate cross-cultural learning experience in a foreign country. Both financial aid (need-based) and scholarships (merit-based) are available for many programs.

UW-Whitewater offers student exchange programs at over two dozen universities worldwide, as well as other types of education abroad affiliations and consortia.

Additionally, a variety of short-term travel study course options are offered each year. Travel study courses combine academic study with an international travel component, typically one to three weeks in length, in various countries. Future teachers may also complete up to half of their student teaching experience abroad in Australia, Jamaica, Mexico, or Sweden.

Students must apply to education abroad programs via the Office of Global Experiences, who will facilitate the credit transfer process with the Admissions Office, Registrar’s Office, and academic units as appropriate. According to University of Wisconsin System policy, coursework from accredited institutions and study abroad programs offered at or via accredited United States post-secondary institutions may be accepted as transfer credit, provided that credit transfer determination is made prior to the study abroad experience. No transfer credit units will be granted on the basis of a transcript furnished by a non-accredited institution or commercial study tour. No transfer credit units will be granted to students who fail to study abroad via the established and approved UW-Whitewater Center for Global Education guidelines. All study abroad participation plans must be approved in advance and prior to departure for the experience abroad.

Center for Students with Disabilities
262-472-4711 (voice/TTY/Relay)

http://www.uww.edu/csd/

The Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin System has designated the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater campus with a unique, specific mission to provide services for students with disabilities focusing on universal design. As a result, the UW-Whitewater campus is one of the most accessible campuses in the nation. Staff members in the Center for Students with Disabilities (CSD) provide a wide variety of services to meet both the diverse and unique needs of students with disabilities. CSD serves all university students including but not limited to prospective students, dual enrolled students, undergraduate students, graduate students, doctoral students, special status students, and students auditing courses.

In compliance with federal, state, and UW System laws, regulations, and policies students must apply for services through CSD by completing an application and submitting appropriate documentation. Materials and resources are available for application at http://www.uww.edu/csd/. Students are encouraged to apply for services at least 8 weeks prior to the start of the term of enrollment. Students approved for services will develop an individualized academic accommodation plan with CSD. Services may include, but are not limited to:

- Intake and transition support, pre-enrollment assessment for individuals with complex disabilities, evaluations, housing accommodations, dining accommodations, and orientation resources
- Alternative testing, interpreters, C-print, captioning, adaptive technology, alternative media, note-taking assistance, etc.
- Assistive Technology Lab
- Physical therapy offered through the University Health and Counseling Center

Project ASSIST, a fee based CSD program, supports students in their pursuit of a university degree without compromising academic
We offer a variety of classes, workshops, and trainings that respond to the changing personal and professional interests of adult learners by connecting the university and community. Workshops on topics such as gardening and graphic design, hundreds of faculty-led online classes from Excel to foreign language, and the popular Fairhaven Lecture Series are some of the enrichment and professional development programs offered regularly at low or no cost. For more information, go to www.uww.edu/ce (http://www.uww.edu/ce/).

Adult and Non-Traditional Student Learning

UW-Whitewater’s commitment to serving nontraditional-aged students is evident in its array of degree completion programs and support services designed exclusively for adult and military veterans. From admission and enrollment, to academic support, through graduation, there are services, scholarships and awards, and support staff there to help adult students complete their education. For more information, go to http://www.uww.edu/aso (http://www.uww.edu/aso/)

Nontraditional students will find particular value in the UW-Whitewater Credit for Prior Learning Program, which allows students the opportunity to earn academic credit for life and career experiences. For more information about the Credit for Prior Learning Program, go to http://www.uww.edu/ce/priorlearning (http://www.uww.edu/ce/priorlearning/).

College Credit in High Schools

The Partners in Education (PIE) program is a concurrent education program which provides a unique way to deliver rigorous curriculum to qualified high school students by allowing them to earn college credit while still fully engaged in the high school activities. By taking college credit in high school, students also set themselves apart by demonstrating that they can succeed in college classes. Go to http://www.uww.edu/ce/pie/.

Credit Outreach

Credit Outreach courses have been specially designed for the part-time undergraduate, graduate and professional students that will continue to comprise a greater share of the clients served by our University. The courses have been scheduled during convenient late afternoon, evening and weekend time slots at strategic locations throughout our service area and online to accommodate the diverse working schedules of busy professionals and to promote access to our university. These courses are also of the finest academic quality, offering students the opportunity to earn undergraduate or graduate credit from a comprehensive university recognized, nationwide, as an affordable and accessible institution of exceptional quality. For more information go to http://www.uww.edu/ce/credit/.

Summer Session & Winterim

Summer Session and Winterim are distinct academic terms offering credit courses outside of traditional fall and spring terms. Both Summer Session and Winterim provide opportunities to complete credit courses in condensed-time formats (typically a three-credit course in a three-week session) and provide opportunities for students to catch-up, get ahead, or re-take courses that are a part of their academic program. There are more than 400 face-to-face and online courses offered at the undergraduate and graduate levels during the twelve-week Summer Session period. Students may take up to 12 credits during Summer Session. For more information about Summer Session, go to http://www.uww.edu/ce/summer/.

Children's Center

262-472-1768

http://www.uww.edu/childrenscenter/

The Children's Center offers year round child care for children of students, faculty, staff, and the greater Whitewater community from ages 3 months up to 12 years. Our program's philosophy is that children learn through hands-on, inquiry-based, open-ended activities. We defend our children's right to play and believe that play is their work. We follow a Reggio Inspired Approach to teaching by viewing every child as capable and competent. Our children's families are their first teachers and partners in the learning process. Our curriculum is child-centered and initiated and we utilize the Project Approach to implement our curriculum.

UW-Whitewater Children's Center has been accredited by the National Association of Young Children since 1991. We are also licensed by the Department of Children and Families Division of Early Care and Education Bureau of Early Care and Regulation. Our program qualifies as a Five out of Five Star program under the Wisconsin Quality Rating Indicator System called Young Star.

The Center is open daily from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Continuing Education

262-472-1100

https://www.uww.edu/ce (https://www.uww.edu/ce/)

From summer camps for children, to college credit courses for high school students, from academic programs and support services designed for nontraditional-aged students, to professional training and development opportunities for adults, from domestic travel study experiences, to personal enrichment programs for seniors—UW-Whitewater actively coordinates the delivery of its programs and services to individuals throughout the region. In fact, UW-Whitewater’s continuing education efforts engage approximately 25,000 individuals from off-campus annually.

Personal Enrichment, Professional Development and Non-Credit Programs

Continuing Education at UW-Whitewater is committed to meeting the lifelong learning needs of adults in southeastern Wisconsin and beyond. We offer a variety of classes, workshops, and trainings that respond to the changing personal and professional interests of adult learners by connecting the university and community. Workshops on topics such as gardening and graphic design, hundreds of faculty-led online classes from Excel to foreign language, and the popular Fairhaven Lecture Series are some of the enrichment and professional development programs offered regularly at low or no cost. For more information, go to www.uww.edu/ce (http://www.uww.edu/ce/).
Winterim is a three-week session held between fall and spring terms (beginning in late December or early January). The courses offered during Winterim by each of the four academic colleges are typically online and are those that tend to fill-up quickly during the traditional academic terms. Students may take only one course during Winterim. For more information about Winterim, go to http://www.uww.edu/ce/winterim (http://www.uww.edu/ce/winterim/).

Camps and Conferences

Each year, the Office of Continuing Education Services coordinates the delivery of more than 120 athletic and fine and performing arts camps, as well as academic institutes, seminars, conferences, clinics, workshops, and university-sponsored events reaching audiences as young as four and as old as 90. This array of noncredit programs focuses on everything from skill development, professional credentialing, and personnel and cultural enrichment. UW-Whitewater Camps and Conferences serve more than 15,000 residents from around the State of Wisconsin annually. For more information about Camps and Conferences, go to http://www.uww.edu/ce/camps (http://www.uww.edu/ce/camps/)

Domestic Travel Study

The UW-Whitewater Office of Continuing Education offers short-term travel study courses to destinations within the United States. Travel study courses are led by faculty members from different disciplines and students can earn undergraduate or graduate credit from a variety of academic departments. Travel occurs primarily in the Winterim and Summer Session. For more information go to http://www.uww.edu/ce/travel/.

Cultural Affairs

262-472-1964
culturalaff@uww.edu

https://www.uww.edu/youngauditorium/cultural-affairs (https://www.uww.edu/youngauditorium/cultural-affairs/)

Cultural Affairs brings to campus the best of the world’s professional performers, from national tours of Jersey Boys to Aquila Theatre Company’s Sense and Sensibility from Stomp to Tamburitzans. Cultural Affairs presents internationally renowned artists, including The Gay Men’s Chorus of Los Angeles and the Rose Ensemble, as well as touring Broadway productions including Chicago and Mamma Mia. The diverse array of world-class performances presented by Cultural Affairs includes the world renowned Axis Dance Company which exists to change the face of dance and disability.

Events are programmed and presented by the Cultural Affairs Committee, a student-led and student-funded organization made up of students, faculty, and community members. Students from all majors are invited to join the Cultural Affairs Committee to help plan performances, meet the artists, and gain experience in marketing and promotion. The Cultural Affairs Committee provides input to the director and helps plan, produce and promote activities for the next season. Volunteer activities include ushering, providing local transportation for the artists, promoting events to students across campus, arranging artist workshops, working on Young Auditorium artist receptions and other aspects of event production. The Cultural Affairs Committee chooses ten to twelve programs for the upcoming season to be listed as Cultural Affairs-sponsored events.

Tickets for Cultural Affairs events are offered to students at a special discounted rate and are available at Ticket Services, located in the Greenhill Center of the Arts, at the University Center, and online at the Young Auditorium website www.youngauditorium.org (http://www.uww.edu/youngauditorium/).

The Center for Global Education coordinates an orientation program for new international students and assists these students with personal, academic, and immigration advisement, housing placement, and socio-cultural integration after arriving at UW-Whitewater. The International Student Advisor remains an important point of contact for international students throughout their time at UW-Whitewater.

Observatory

https://www.uww.edu/cls/departments/physics/observatory (https://www.uww.edu/cls/departments/physics/observatory/)
The UW-Whitewater Observatory is a teaching and research facility. Contained in the observatory dome is a 16 inch aperture diameter Cassegrain reflecting telescope. The facility includes a telescope storage room, a general-purpose room in which viewing and testing sessions, public lectures, and supervised student research take place. While the observatory dome and telescope storage room are maintained at an outside temperature, the general-purpose room, that includes computers for data reduction and laboratory activities, is actively heated in winter and cooled in summer. Immediately outside of the observatory is a viewing area for naked-eye observing and for instruction in the use of small, portable telescopes. The observatory is used by astronomy classes for both daytime and nighttime activities, for announced lectures to the general public, and for tours and activity sessions for school groups.

Parking
262-472-1011
https://www.uww.edu/adminaffairs/parking-regulations

All persons who use unmetered University of Wisconsin-Whitewater parking facilities must display a valid parking permit issued by Visitor Parking Services. To accommodate the parking needs of on-campus resident students, commuting students, faculty, and staff, some parking facilities are restricted. Observe restrictions posted at each parking facility.

A parking permit may be purchased at the Visitor Parking Services Office located in the Visitor Center, 826 Starin Road. It is not necessary to have a permit on a vehicle that is parked at a meter; however, it is necessary to pay the meter even if the vehicle has a permit. Vehicles parked in violation of university regulations will be ticketed.

University Advancement 262-472-1105
foundation@uww.edu

The Office of University Advancement includes the UW-Whitewater National Alumni Association, the UW-Whitewater Foundation, and the Office of Marketing and Media Relations. University Advancement provides a communication link between the university and the media, approximately 57,000 UW-Whitewater alumni, and the public at large.

The UW-Whitewater Foundation also creates and directs a variety of fund-raising efforts on behalf of UW-Whitewater, its faculty and staff, and its students.

University Bookstore
262-472-1280
bookstore@uww.edu

https://www.uwwhitewaterbookstore.com/

The University Bookstore, located in Moraine Hall, provides personal and educational materials to students and faculty. In addition to course textbooks and manuals, ebooks, access codes, dictionaries, trade and bargain books, study aids, test preparation guides, and course-related titles are available in the book department. For the convenience of all, students may charge purchased textbooks to their student bill. The Bookstore conducts a Book Buyback (cash for books) during exam week each May and December. In the supply department, students can purchase binders, notebooks, paper, electronics, tablets, headphones, and general school supplies. In addition, DVDs and Blu-Rays, cards, sundries, and stamps are available. Jackets, shorts, sweatshirts, backpacks, and T-shirts are also popular items. Class rings, caps and gowns, and gift cards are services provided by Bookstore staff.

Textbooks - Undergraduate

The University provides basic textbooks for undergraduate students on a rental basis. The rental cost is included as a part of the fees students pay for registration each term. Textbooks may be picked up at designated times at the Textbook Rental, located in Moraine Hall. Graduate students are required to purchase their textbooks from the University Bookstore and are not assessed a rental fee. Students should expect to purchase some supplemental books and non-reusable materials such as workbooks and supplies.

Textbooks - Graduate

Graduate students pay no textbook rental fees and are expected to purchase texts and other instructional materials that are assigned in courses. The University’s Textbook Rental Service is not authorized to rent books to graduate students. The University Bookstore (Moraine Hall) sells and rents graduate texts, ebooks, and other course materials. Students should check with the instructor of the course for the needed materials and textbooks. Since text requirements differ widely, no attempt is made here to estimate textbook purchase costs.

University Center
262-472-1170
infodesk@uww.edu

http://www.uww.edu/uc

The James R. Connor University Center (UC) is a gathering place for the campus community. It is a great place to attend various programs, work on group projects or study individually, shoot a game of pool, go bowling, grab a snack or enjoy a full meal, attend a movie, meet with a student organization, participate in an art activity, or just meet up with friends. Activity thrives in the UC!

Students find the UC’s many offices and services carefully designed to meet their needs. There are study and social lounges, conference rooms, resource centers, dining areas and more.

The UC also provides a number of employment opportunities for students. Positions range from Front Desk Attendants to Building Managers, from Human Resources Interns to Graphic Artists. These positions give students professional experience in their areas of study. They also get to work with other students, faculty, and staff to gain many new insights into how campus departments work together. Some positions are also arranged for students to earn academic credit.

Whatever your need, the UC is here to Get U Connected!

UHCS does not provide vision correction exams or dental care. It refers students requiring specialty health care to specialists within the community. Professional services in health or counseling are free, but there is a charge for medications, medical supplies, procedures, physicals, immunizations, and lab tests. Payment for care outside UHCS is the financial responsibility of the student.

A Wellness Resource Center offering brochures, computer programs, DVs, videos, CDs, and audiotapes is available in the lobby. Materials may be checked out at no charge. The UHCS web site is available to students 24 hours a day at www.uww.edu/uhcs (http://www.uww.edu/uhcs/).

Numerous educational programs are provided for students throughout the year.

Health insurance is recommended. A policy has been endorsed by University of Wisconsin System. Information about the policy is available at UHCS or its web site. Hospital care is available in Fort Atkinson, Janesville, or Elkhorn when needed. Students experiencing life-threatening situations should contact the Whitewater Rescue Squad by dialing 911. UHCS is not an emergency facility, but can assist in securing transportation to a hospital for students requiring hospital care.

Counseling services include individual and group counseling (primarily short term) for UW-Whitewater students dealing with any number of personal issues. In addition, consultation is available to faculty, staff, and students.

Counseling services are provided at no cost by professional psychologists, social workers, and counselors, as well as supervised graduate-level counselors-in-training. If immediate or direct services are not available here, counselors can help the student find an appropriate community resource. Students with ANY personal concerns (adjustment to college, relationship issues, alcohol and drug issues, depression, stress management, self-esteem, roommate problems, eating disorders, sexuality issues, sexual abuse or assault, or just wanting to feel better about life) are encouraged to ask for help at UHCS. A 24-hour Crisis Line at 800-368-1587 is available for all students through Walworth County Human Services. All services of UHCS are confidential.

University Housing

http://www.uww.edu/housing (http://www.uww.edu/housing/)

The mission of University Housing is to provide quality, accessible housing and to promote student learning and personal success in an inclusive, engaging community: Live! Learn! Engage!

University Housing administers twelve traditional residence halls, one suite style and two leased off campus apartment facilities, that can accommodate approximately 4,200 students. Residence halls range in size from 200 to 600 residents and offer a range of living options such as coed halls, coed floors, coed wings, upper-class floors and halls, substance free & quiet floors, a Wellness building, the Global Village, and Learning Communities. Many of the residence halls also sponsor tutoring in their buildings to support student learning. Residents traditionally will be assigned to standard double rooms. Single rooms are offered as space is available or to accommodate documented medical necessity.

All residence halls offer completely furnished rooms as well as kitchens, study lounges, laundry facilities, and TV lounges. Some halls offer other amenities such as rec rooms and meeting rooms. All residence hall students are invited to use the computer labs in the residence halls. All rooms have one data port and wireless network access.

and a bathroom/shower within the suite. This building features many unique characteristics to support our campus accessibility initiatives as well as sustainability efforts.

The off campus apartment (Cambridge) offers 2 bedroom-4 person apartments complete with a living room, kitchen and bathroom. It is within walking distance to campus.

University Housing does not have housing for married students; however, most married students are able to find off-campus housing in Whitewater or neighboring communities.

Staff

Each residence hall is administered by a professional Masters-level Complex Director and a graduate student Assistant Complex Director. A Resident Assistant (RA) lives in each wing and assists students with the residential living, learning experience. Custodians work hard in each building to keep public area facilities clean and attractive. All of these staff members are eager to work with residents to meet their on-campus housing needs.

Programming and Involvement

The University of Wisconsin-Whitewater residence halls are proud to offer a variety of programming and involvement opportunities to meet the needs of all students. Leadership Involvement Teams in each building work with the staff to plan many different activities such as dinners, diversity related programming, floor competitions, movie nights, intramural teams, study skill programs, and speakers to present a variety of topics. Members of the Leadership Involvement Teams may also work with the residence hall-wide leadership organization, the Residence Hall Association (RHA), which serves as the voice of the residents to University Housing.

The UWWTV station operates through University Housing and offers opportunities for involvement.

University Housing is the largest student employer on campus and is often recruiting for many positions such as RA, desk receptionist, student custodian, clerical assistant, graphic artist, grounds crew worker, and many others. Students seeking information about these positions, or any aspect of University Housing, should feel free to call for more information or refer to the University Housing web site at http://www.uww.edu/housing/.

Residency Policies

All freshman and sophomore students with fewer than 60 units are required to live in UW-Whitewater-operated residence halls. Exceptions can be made for students who are veterans, are married, are two academic years or more beyond earning a high school diploma or equivalent, or who have university permission to live at home. A notarized request for commuter status must be filed with University Housing. Students may also be exempted from this policy if they have resided in UW-Whitewater-owned residence halls for at least four Fall/Spring terms or it has been 2 years since their high school graduation.

Application Procedure

Further information about housing, along with an application, is available to students upon their admission to UW-Whitewater. Students are required to submit a $125 deposit with their contract acceptance form. This deposit is non-refundable after the May 1 contract cancellation deadline identified in the contract.

Additional Information

Additional Information about UW-Whitewater-owned residence halls is available by calling University Housing at 262-472-4255 or visiting the University Housing web site located at http://www.uww.edu/housing/). Questions may also be emailed to housing@uww.edu.

Short-Term Guest Housing

University Housing offers inexpensive overnight residence hall accommodations when space is available. For more information about the service, contact University Housing at 262-472-4200 or email guesthousing@uww.edu and ask about Goodhue Guest Housing.

Police Services

292-472-4660 (non-emergency number)

http://www.uww.edu/adminaffairs/police (http://www.uww.edu/adminaffairs/police/)

The University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Police Services Department is a full-service law enforcement agency providing 24-hour, year-round police protection and services to the campus community. Fifteen sworn Police Officers, two non-sworn employee staff the department and approximately fifty Campus Service Officers and student employees.

The mission of the Police Services Department is to provide proactive, professional, and personable services to all persons within the community through planning, education, and enforcement. The Department is committed to upholding the rights of all persons guaranteed under the United States Constitution, as well as state laws, codes, and UW System regulations. The Department pursues these goals through a community-oriented approach, providing programming, event planning, development of prevention and intervention programs, and the appropriate, fair, and non-discriminatory use of its legal authority.

Emergency services can be contacted via 911 while on campus. Anyone requiring non-emergency services of the Police Services Department can contact them 24 hours a day, seven days a week by phoning 262-472-4660. Business transactions can be conducted in person during office hours of 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, in Goodhue Hall. The Department motto - Honor, Integrity, Service - describes what the Department strives to be, strives to do, and strives to uphold. It also describes the need to honor the responsibilities entrusted to officers, to be an unbiased observer of the truth and assist those in need however possible. By so doing, the Department works to establish a level of communication with our community which is based upon trust, understanding, and respect.

Whitewater Student Government

262-472-1166

https://www.uww.edu/wsg (https://www.uww.edu/wsg/)

The Whitewater Student Government is the official representative of the student body. It has the primary responsibility for University policy concerning student life, services, and interests, and also maintains several agencies which provide a variety of services to the University and community.
Structurally, the Whitewater Student Government consists of an executive branch and the Student Senate. The Senate meets every Monday at 7:00 p.m. in the University Center Room 259. Everyone is welcome.

By meeting the responsibilities given to it by state law 39.09(5), the Whitewater Student Government gives students an opportunity to become involved in University governance and to develop their initiative and leadership.

Women's Center

262-472-1471

University Center 127

The University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Women’s Center is a supportive community dedicated to fostering women’s individual empowerment through educational programs, resources, and referrals.

The Women's Center collaborates with UW-Whitewater students, faculty, staff, and the larger community on programs designed to increase awareness about issues affecting women.

The Center is a place where women and men can work to address diverse needs, interest, and concerns, including the promotion of equality by challenging imbalances of power based on sexism and other forms of oppression. Students on campus can also receive information and referrals in matters relating to a wide range of gender issues.
